Reflection

I had an unforgettable Study Tour experience. Since this was the first time for me to join study tour, I felt very nervous at first. But after this experience, I found that it ~~was~~ meaningful and I enjoyed it a lot. Although we stayed at school for most of the time, I learnt lots about Auckland culture because I chatted with the students in there often. I felt thankful to have such kind-hearted and caring buddy and host family to take care of me and visit around. I thought my English has been improved.

It was a joyful trip for me, I don't want to leave here too. I like New Zealand so much and I think there are still pros and cons comparing with HK. There are more freedom in Auckland. People can use mobile phone freely at school. They also have less tests and homework that make me a little bit jealous. The air in here are fresh too! There are lots of trees in everywhere. However, I don't like the insects here. I am not used to face so many insects in Hong Kong.

I learnt a lot of things, from physical to mental. My English has improved! Because I usually don't speak too much English in front of people. But now, I can speak more and fluent English to my host family, buddies and friends. I also learnt to be independent. Because usually I would stay at home everyday and if I have any problems, my parents would help me. But after this study tour, I learnt to deal problems by myself, without other's help. The zoo trip on Saturday and the farewell party was memorable. I saw different kinds of animals that I haven't seen before. In the farewell party, I chatted with different friends. It was joyful and I enjoyed a lot.

Thank You :)
