Reflection

One of my favourite visits during the trip is the Anfield Stadium of the Liverpool Football Club. During the tour around the stadium, there were many group photos of the football team hanging on the wall along the way. These photos reminded me of the motto of the club, "You'll Never Walk Alone", which represents the team spirit and the friendship among the team.

Other than sightseeing around Liverpool, it has been fun staying with my host family. My host mom, Gill, gave us a lovely home. By chatting with Gill, we ^{have} not only practised communicating in English, we have also learnt more about Liverpool and British culture. We even tried out the famous Fish n Chips, which was quite tasty!

Throughout the trip, I have learnt to be ^{more} independent and taking care of myself ^{while travelling by my own}. During a study tour, it is also important to respect different culture and different religions of people of different races. This definitely a ^{memorable} trip!

Thank You :)
