I had a great time in Queensland and I loved this place so much. Unlike Hong Kong, Queensland doesn't have busy roads and tall buildings. Its environment is very relaxing which there are plantations everywhere. The scenery is very stunning and fascinating, for example, the ^{new of} Mountain Coot-tha. I could see the bird-eye view of Brisbane's city which is very beautiful. Also, the weather of Queensland is nice. Although it's quite cold in the mornings and at night, there is always sunshine and blue skies. Furthermore, the Aussies are very friendly and kind. They are willing to lend a helping hand to us most of the time. Their faces are always hanging a big smile enthusiastically. My favourite place in Queensland is the Movieworld. As a big fan of thrilling amusement rides, Movieworld is definitely the cup of tea of mine. Its rides are very awesome so I had spent an awesome day there. Although I'm not really interested in DC, I still spent a lot of money on their attractive souvenirs.

In this tour, I had a lot of new experiences. This is the first time that I had lessons in other schools in other countries. Although I had a good buddy, Alyssa, since I was quite shy and nervous on the first day, I didn't get along with her very well and she had even forgotten me. After trying to be more courageous and active, we became good friends. I ^{had} thought that it's very difficult to get along with ~~the~~ those who share a different mother-tongue with me in the beginning, but I'm actually wrong. If I had stepped one more step forward, I would have become ~~more~~ closer with Alyssa in the first day.

Thank you :)
